32. The method of Claim 1, further comprising:

generating an incomplete status of a record including information about a claim, obtaining additional information about said claim; modifying said record to include said additional information; and 5 converting said incomplete status associated with said record to a claim status.

33. The method of Claim 1, further comprising:

assigning at least one role to a first user have a first set of security permissions and access limits; and 10 determining, using said first set of security permissions and access limits, whether to allow a user to perform an operation in connection with said insurance account.

34. A computer program product for managing monies and information in connection with an insurance insolvency comprising:

15 machine executable code for designating a state fund for each state associated with said insurance insolvency; machine executable code for associating with said state fund an insurance account of a first type; and 20 machine executable code for associating with said insurance account at least one line of insurance.

35. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising: machine executable code for associating at least one industry standard code with said insurance account and said at least one line of insurance.

5

36. The computer program product of Claim 35, wherein said insurance account is associated with a plurality of lines of insurance.

37. The computer program product of Claim 36, wherein said insurance account 10 is associated with at least two lines of insurance each being of type commercial automobile, worker's compensation, homeowner's and fire.

38. The computer program product of Claim 36, wherein said insurance account is associated with one line of insurance being of type commercial automobile, worker's 15 compensation, homeowner's, and fire.

39. The computer program product of Claim 35, further comprising:
machine executable code for associating a group with a first of said each states having a corresponding state fund; and 20 machine executable code for associating at least one member with said group.

40. The computer program product of Claim 39, further comprising:
machine executable code for storing information in a computer system representing a relationship between said state fund and said associated insurance account and said at least one line of insurance.

5

41. The computer program product of Claim 40, further comprising:
machine executable code for representing a merger of at least two members by combining portions of said information stored in the computer system.

45. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:
machine executable code for determining an insurance account from which a payment is made.

46. The computer program product of Claim 45, wherein said payment is made in connection with at least one of: a claim and an unearned premium.

10

47. The computer program product of Claim 46, further comprising:
machine executable code for tracking payments; and machine executable code for displaying an accounting of said payments with respect to a predetermined estimated amount of payments.

15

48. The computer program product of Claim 47, further comprising:
machine executable code for tracking total payments made prior to said insolvency.

20

49. The computer program product of Claim 48, further comprising:
machine executable code for tracking monies in connection with recovery amounts.

5 50. The computer program product of Claim 49, wherein said recovery amounts includes at least one of: a salvage amount, a subrogation recovery, a second injury amount, a cost of living adjustment, and a net worth.

10 51. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:
machine executable code for creating a diary entry including information about one of: a claim and unearned premium; and machine executable code for sending said diary entry to at least one user.

15 52. The computer program of Claim 50, wherein said machine executable code for sending said diary entry is executed automatically in response to an occurrence of a predefined event.

20 53. The computer program product of Claim 52, further comprising machine executable code for detecting said predefined event, wherein said predefined event is one of: deleting a pending payment, closing one of a claim and an unearned premium, upon rejection of a closing one of a claim and unearned premium, modifying a line of insurance, deleting a line of insurance, sending a note to a reviewer, adjusting a reserve, adding a new taxpayer, and modifying an existing taxpayer.

54. The computer program product of Claim 52, wherein the computer program 5 product further includes:

machine executable code for creating an account for a user specifying a predetermined limit;

machine executable code for specifying, by said user, a reserve amount above said predetermined limit; and 10 machine executable code for sending said diary entry to a manager for approval in response to said user specifying said reserve amount.

55. The computer program product of Claim 51, wherein said machine executable code for sending said diary entry executes in response to other machine 15 executable code detecting a first user creating said diary entry, and the computer program product further includes:

machine executable code for said first user selecting at least one other user to which said diary entry is sent.

20 56. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:
machine executable code for associating at least one note with an insurance claim; machine executable code for associating a blocked status with said insurance claim; and machine executable code for generating, in response to setting said blocked status, a note to at least one user indicating why said insurance claim has a blocked status.

57. The computer program product of Claim 45, further comprising:

machine executable code for automatically notifying a first user when a second user attempts to perform a predetermined operation on said insurance claim having said blocked status.

10

58. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:

machine executable code for performing a transaction in connection with one of an insurance claim and an unearned premium;

15 machine executable code for determining a corresponding insurance account in accordance with information about said one of said insurance claims and said unearned premium, said information including a relationship to a state and at least one line of insurance associated with said corresponding insurance account; and machine executable code for adjusting an amount associated with said corresponding insurance account in accordance with said transaction.

59. The computer program product of Claim 58, further comprising:
machine executable code for generating a data file including information about at least one of an unearned premium and a claim, said data file being used as an input file into an accounting system.

60. The computer program product of Claim 59, further comprising:
machine executable code for generating general ledger entries, said general ledger entries being included in said data file.

61. The computer program product of Claim 58, further comprising:
machine executable code for associating information about an insurance claim with said corresponding insurance account;

10 machine executable code for entering a note associated with an insurance claims, said note including descriptive information about said claim entered by a claim handler; 15 and machine executable code for providing for said note to be available for reading by another user.

62. The computer program product of Claim 58, further comprising:
20 machine executable code for recording information about an error in a log file included in a client system.

63. The computer program product of Claim 62, further comprising:
machine executable code for auditing said transaction by recording audit information about said transaction.

64. The computer program product of Claim 63, wherein said audit information includes at least one of: date and time information, transaction type, data values prior to modification by said transaction, and user performing said transaction.

65. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:
machine executable code for generating an incomplete status of a record including information about a claim; machine executable code for obtaining additional information about said claim; machine executable code for modifying said record to include said additional information; and machine executable code for converting said incomplete status associated with said record to a claim status.

15

66. The computer program product of Claim 34, further comprising:
machine executable code for assigning at least one role to a first user have a first set of security permissions and access limits; and machine executable code for determining, using said first set of security permissions and access limits, whether to allow a user to perform an operation in connection with said insurance account.
